Robert Steffen Died a Few Hours After Announcing Marriage to Miss Porter.

WOMAN HAS NOT BEEN FOUND.

She Is Supposed to Have Left the what he needs." City-Both Were Employed at the Poorhouse Until Last Week.

Robert Steffen died at the City Hospital yesterday morning from the effects of an overdose of morphine taken at the Benton Hotel only a few hours after he had announced his marriage to Miss Georgia Por-

The woman has not been found and is supposed to have left the city. Every indication is that the man committed suicide. A letter found in his pocket indicates that the woman had decided that the marriage should not take place.

Steffen and Miss Porter were both employed at the Poorhouse until last week, when Steffen resigned to accept a better position and Miss Porter also resigned, saying that she was going to Kansas City. They had been very good friends for a long They always took the same day for their holiday and were invariably together on those occasions. Friday morning Steffen went to his home at No. 2504 South Tenth street and told his mother and brother that he had resigned his position at the Poorhouse and that he was going to work in the City Auditor's office. He also announced to them that he and Miss Porter had just been married and that they would make their home at No. 4220 Olive street. Steffen sent his brother to the Poorhouse Friday to get his clothes and told his mother to keep them and he would send an express wagon

Allen avenue said that Steffen had frequently spoken to him about Miss Porter and that he had told him that they were to be married "Some time ago," said Trit-termann, "Steffen took me to call on Miss Porter at No. 4220 Olive street. She told me that she was engaged to Mr. Steffen. me that she was engaged to Mr. Steffen. About 9 o'clock Friday night Steffen telephoned me that he and Miss Porter had been married and that he was going to work in the Auditor's office. After he finished speaking Miss Porter came to the telephone and confirmed Steffen's statement about the marriage. Neither Steffen nor Miss Porter is known at No. 429 Olive street. Mrs. O. E. Overpeck lives where Miss Porter is supposed to have lived and she said that she had no knowledge of Miss Porter or Steffen. The letter found in Steffen's pocket says:

RUSH OF BUYERS BROKE THE RECORD.

Third Fall Excursion of Interstate Merchants' Association Begins Auspiciously.

CHICAGO'S TRADE COMING HERE.

Wholesale Houses Forced to Abandon Half Holiday and Keep Open at Night to Accommodate Customers.

Yesterday was the first day of the third all meeting of the Interstate Merchants' Association, and the number of arrivals

Every train entering the city was filled with men and women, who came to St.

Secretary Singer and his assistants were kept busy looking after the visitors, and the various wholesale houses, instead of having a half holiday, were compelled to work their employes until a late hour last night in order to handle the rush of busi-

Most of the visitors who arrived yester lay are from Texas, but Missouri is a close steend, and other States are well repre sented in the list, which does not give the total number, as many arrived on excursions, and did not register.

All of the Southern merchants are enthuslastic over the business prospects in their section, and predict a phenomenal trade this fall. As one of them expressed it: "The rice crop is a record-breaker, the yield of sugar was phenomenal, and there is just cotton enough to insure the planters a good price for their crop, so both farmers and merchants have plenty of money. Collections are good and every one is able to buy

There are a number of new buyers in the market, and all express themselves as being surprised at the immense stocks shown by local jobbers, their variety and the low prices at which the goods are offered.

St. Louis firms have been paying patticular attention to securing the trade of mer-prices at which the goods are offered.

St. Louis firms have been paying patticular attention to securing the trade of merchants in the Northwest, who have heretofore gone to Chicago to buy their goods, and their efforts in this direction have been particularly successful.

A number of salesmen who formerly traveled for Chicago houses have been engaged by St. Louis jobbers, and are reaping a harvest for St. Louis in that section.

The combination of Papinta and "Miss Murphy" at Forest Park Highlands proved so strong last week that Colonel Hopkins has decided to retain the two cards another week. Miss Murphy will again perform out in the grounds. In addition to these two performers there are the Mouliere Sisters, French female athletes, and Mouliere Sisters, French female athletes, and the only women who can do a double somer-sault; Jesephine Gassman, the queen of coon-song singers, and her trained pickaninnies; the Newsboys' Quintette, who have been for two seasons with Hyde's shows; Howard's ponies, and the wrestling quadraped, in a new act; Rudolf and Carola, female European equilibrists, who are making their first appearance in Ameri-ca; Gallando, the clay modeler, in live and up-to-date work; Frank and Lillian Smith, who have date work: Frank and Lillian Smith, who have just arrived here, having been two years with tearnum & Balley. In the Annex will again be shown the Paris Exposition pictures.

The funny Nawns form one of the principa layers in the vandeville pousse cafe at the Sub-urban Garden this week. They have a new sketch that has been very generally pronounced as good as "One Touch of Nature." Mr. Nawns presents a similar character. Charley Wayne, eccentric comedian, re-engaged from last week's company, will do an individual specialty along the lines that made him famous years ago. Flatt and Sutherland have a pleasing turn, with plenty of musical numbers. The Van Aukens, triple horizontal performers, and Maria and Angeine Danie, juvenile dancers and aero-bats, have good places on the bill. The last-named team constitutes Manager Gumpertz's latest discovery. Al Blanchard and his quartet and Fred Warren and company fill out the giver presented quite so handsome an exterior and interior as that of this year, and Mr. Garen has reason to be proud of it, as all of the work has been done under his direct personal supe on. During the last week he has given his cial attention to the re-enforcement of the t-weather obvintor, more particularly known the heed-air plant. He has re-enforced this nd has also increased the number of noisele dectric fans employed in connection with the ther plant. For the last few sensons the weath-r which has characterized the opening of the cosons has been almost as torrid as that from bich the country is now suffering, but throug which the country is now suffering, but through it all the record of Havlin's has been that the terriperature has been kept 10 to 15 degrees cooler than any place out of doors. This difference Menager Garen expects to increase this season to probably 25 degrees. Tests show more than that, but this expectation is based on the interior after the audience is seated. The company presenting "The Hottest Coon in Ukkie" is compassed of thirty-five people. At the same time it includes the names of a number of the people best known among the singers, dancers an comedians of the colored race. Among them a comedians of the colored race. Among them as wiss Neale G. Huwkins, Wm. H. Proctor, Ho Kelly, Fred T. Friend of the Motorman!

The Only McNichol! A Busy, Helpful Life.

"It's true," said McGregor, last week,
"The motorman's lines are too hard":
He is chained to his post, so to speak,
From the moment the car quits the yard.
He feels, as must all other men,
The need of a home and a wife;
He hopes, but can never see when, He hopes, but can never see when, A good change will come to his life.

The public's a despot to serve— Heart, hands and feet to the task; The sunshine that lies on each curve is all he expects or can ask. The homes that he sees flying by Are not for such bondmen as he; He marks with a tear or a sign How happy some others can be. Eut think not he labors in vain—
With none to compassion his grief;
There is one who, acquainted with pain,
Has hastened to give him rellef.
No sick man or patron of art—
No Crossus who lolls at his ease—
Has so feeling and pitying a heart
As McNichol for the wor that he sees.

To him let the motorman go
When wearied with fret and with jar;
The world with its glittering show—
As seen on the fleet motor car!
The quiet and peace he would seek
Awaits in a home all his own;
His bills he can pay by the week—
No burden of debt nor of loan!
